

Kindergarten

News...

October is here and yet it still feels like summer weather! We are taking every opportunity to learn outside as we take advantage of these beautiful Fall days. Everyone is settling into our classroom routines well and it has been such a pleasure getting to know each one of our classroom family members. We will spend time this month continuing to practice "school rules" and expectations and will begin to explore the core competencies of critical and creative thinking. Thank you so much for your support with blue bag returns and flexibility in the change of our pick up/ drop off space. The Kindergarten classes will be learning about pumpkins this month and we will have a Pumpkin Celebration day on Oct. 30. Instead of costumes, students are invited to wear orange or black. Over the next few months, students will be asked to wear a specific colour (if possible) to school. It's a fun way to learn about graphing and we do special colour activities on those days.

At home...

Please read to your child every night and fill in the green home reading book.

Ask your child about something they learned at school each day.

A look at what's next...

Our literacy, math, science and social studies will use storytelling as a platform to introduce new concepts such as plant life, where we live, sorting and patterns.
